Advocate Action

From one Education Advocate to another...

Some strategies that may make this new school year a success:

- ✓ Develop a 'partnership' with your child's teacher.
- ✓ Establish a daily routine
- ✓ Have positive conversations with your children about their performance
- ✓ Familiarize yourself with school/class website
- ✓ Volunteer when you can
- ✓ Respond to your child's concerns...

Your children value your words!

COLLEGE...

how to prepare and get through your first year

It is never too early to start the conversation about college with our children. Asking questions, knowing your resources, and how to prepare can curb some of the anxiety of this important task. This advice comes from a college student who just completed her freshman year. It's a personal list of suggestions based on her experiences. Some information may change over time, so you are responsible for double-checking.

In Sophia's college advice, you will find information on choosing a college, SAT & ACT test preparation and scores, early application and the application process, and much more.

Please read all the thoughtful details Sophia has provided.
